Calling all Melophiles

The music industry's annual blow-out celebration, the Grammy's, will take place this Sunday in Los Angeles, bringing out some of the planet's biggest and brightest performers.

While not all of us will be lucky enough to score an invite to the music awards extravaganza, the good news is that there are plenty of hotels around the country that cater to melophiles. From inviting up and coming artists to perform on-site to hosting famous music legends as guests, here's a look at the hotels that should be on your radar if music is your jam.
